Harvard Model Congress

Get to know your Harvard organisation at Harvard University

Harvard Model Congress (HMC) at Harvard University stands as the world's largest congressional simulation conference, offering high school students an immersive and dynamic experience. With participation open to students from the United States and abroad, HMC presents a unique opportunity to engage in a realistic model congress simulation. The entire event is organized and run by our devoted team of Harvard undergraduates, ensuring a high-quality and impactful experience for all participants.

GET TO KNOW YOUR MENTORS

Matt Tibbitts

Harvard University Student

I am Matt Tibbitts, a junior in Eliot House at Harvard. I am pursuing a combined degree in Applied Mathematics, Economics, and Environmental Science and Public Policy. Previously, I had the honor of serving as the Secretariat for the Harvard Student Agencies MUN, and currently, I hold the position of president of the senate in Harvard Model Congress. Alongside my studies, I am working as a legislative director in the Massachusetts House of Representatives. In high school, I was elected to the Massachusetts Board of Elementary and Secondary Education, representing over 954,000 students. I had the opportunity to speak at various education conferences and even got published in a national policy journal. During my leisure time, you can find me enjoying board games with friends or playing the drums.

Logan Kelly

Harvard University Student

I am Logan Kelly, a senior at Harvard, pursuing a degree in Social Studies with minors in Mind/Brain/Behavior and Spanish. I am also the president of the European branch of Harvard Model Congress. Currently, I am pursuing social policy research in Portugal and Spain as an Undergraduate Associate of the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs and the Center for European Studies. In my free time, I enjoy listening to philosophy podcasts on peaceful walks, reading the classics, and lifting weights.

Ryan Jung

Harvard University Student

I am Ryan Jung, a sophomore at Harvard from Irvine, California. I am currently studying Social Studies with a secondary focus in Educational Studies. Alongside my involvement in HMC San Francisco, I also hold the position of Director of Operations for Harvard Model Congress Boston. Apart from my responsibilities at HMC, I find great joy in teaching civics to fifth graders, exploring the art of film photography, and embarking on a quest to find the best iced coffee spots in Boston.

Adrián Muñoz Krans

Harvard University Student

I am Adrián Muñoz Krans, a sophomore residing in Pforzheimer House at Harvard. My academic focus is on social studies. Currently, I hold a position on the board of Harvard Model Congress's Boston conference, and in the past, I served as a board member for their San Francisco branch. Apart from my involvement in model congress, I dedicate my time to teaching speech and debate to middle school students. Additionally, I have collaborated with the Institute of Politics to provide guidance to the city of Cambridge on urban agriculture initiatives. During my leisure hours, I find solace in writing poetry, indulging in fiction reading, and maintaining a daily journal.

and many more....
